

Get Wardle Reading

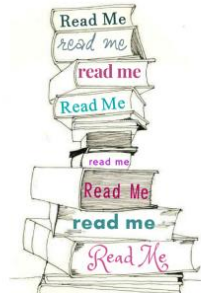

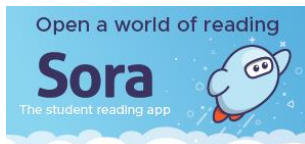

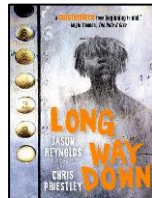

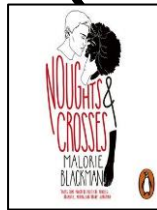

8th
October
2021

Click the app image to access SORA, Wardle Academy's fabulous virtual library which can be accessed from any device! All these books and many more can be found on SORA. Use your normal google login and select our school. Click on the book image to read more about it.

Inspiring Reads by Black Authors.

This week's issue celebrates Black History Month which is an opportunity to celebrate the achievements of black people and to recognise their contribution to British society.

For Black History Month, BookTrust have put together a booklist of historical stories from Black History around the world.

From picture books to teen novels, spanning fiction and non-fiction, these books are bound to captivate and inform. Click on the icon above for more information.

Click on the book cover to listen to the latest GWR Podcast, an extract from Diver's daughter by Patrice Lawrence.

Secret Readers

When he's not carrying unrealistically heavy hammers, this actor enjoys sitting down with a good book. The actor recently shared this book with his followers and, according to the "superhero," it's perfect for all ages.

This bestselling book is in the library if you would like to see why our secret reader thinks everyone should read it.

Any 'Thorts' who it could be? Click on the image to see the full picture.

Log into our library

All you need is your full email address which should include @wardleacademy.co.uk and your date of birth e.g. 01.09.2009. Submit a fantastic book review for the chance to win a prize!

Walk the Wardle Walk!

Talk the Wardle Talk!

What's in the news?

Reading the newspaper or accessing the news online will really help expand your vocabulary and equip you with a good knowledge of current events.

People arriving in the UK between 1948 and 1971 from Caribbean countries have been labelled the Windrush generation

It refers to the ship, which docked in Tilbury on 22 June 1948, bringing workers from Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago and other islands, to help fill post-war UK labour shortages. The ship carried 492 passengers - many of them children. Click on the image to discover about this important time in history and discuss what you have learnt with an adult at home.

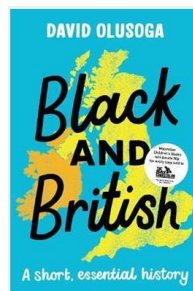

Non-Fiction Book Review

Title: Black and British

Author: David Olusoga

Rating: 5/5 stars

Summary: In the latest edition of this book which has been revised and rewritten especially for secondary school children, Olusoga concisely explains the much-overlooked history of Black peoples in Britain and beyond. From the multiculturally diverse society of Roman times and the first Africans in Britain to the link between the Industrial Revolution and the American Civil War, as well as more modern history such as the Second World War and the Windrush scandal. Maps, bite-sized facts, photos and paintings illustrate each rich and varied period of history, and we're introduced to incredible figures such as Olaudah Equiano and Ottobah Cugoana, who formed the Sons of Africa and were early Black abolitionists and Sam King MBE, who came to Britain on the Windrush and later became the first Black mayor of the London borough of Southwark.

Featured Author:

Patrice Lawrence

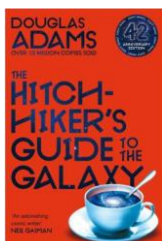

Patrice Lawrence was born in Brighton and brought up in an Italian and Trinidadian household. Two of her books, Orangeboy and Indigo Donut Both books have been nominated for the Carnegie Medal. Patrice worked for more than 20 years for charities supporting equality and social justice. These themes (along with a serious amount of music) inform her stories.

Click on the image above to watch an interview with Patrice and she is also the featured author on our latest GWR podcast.

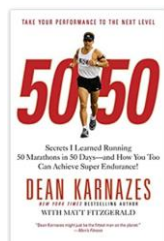

what is on their bookshelf!

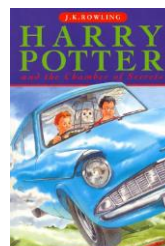

Favourite Childhood Read:

Most Inspirational:

Currently reading:

Mr Gales

Teacher of Science